Local Items.

Mr. Felix LeBlanc came down from Riverside last week.

Mr. W. Y. Price was in from the Republica ranch this week.

Mr. Adolph Nieman, of Riverside, was in town this week.

Deputy Sheriff James Thomas, of Riverside, has been in town this week.

The vault in the Recorder's office has been in a substantial manner.

Mr. C. W. Fuller has the thanks of the publishers for a brace of fine fat fowls.

Mr. W. V. Elliot has gone to Riverside in the employ of Mr. J. P. Gabriel.

Mr. Al. McGrath returned from Tucson Monday and went at once to Riverside.

It is stated that Mr. Aaron Mason will soon take up his residence in Los Angeles.

Mr. Alf. Peters, of the C. T. Hayden Milling Company, of Tempe, was in town this week.

Mr. C. A. Miller major domo for Commodore W. P. Blair, has been in town for a week or two.

The school house belfry has been provided with a bell whose lively tones may be heard across the valley.

The residence of Sheriff Fryer has been fixed up in very neat style and a picket fence has been built in front.

Mr. B. J. Whiteside was called to Casa Grande this week to take acknowledgment in several mining deeds.

Land is being plowed and prepared for spring crops in every part of the valley and the farmers are very busy.

The weather has been quite warm this week and the buds on the trees are expanding in a businesslike way.

Supt. Arthur Macy, of the Silver King, was in town Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Lodges of Odd Fellows and Masons will probably be organized as soon as Mr. C. D. Henry's new brick hall is completed.

Mr. J. A. Broadbeck is again about after a quite severe sick spell. He had a bout with the pneumonia and came out the victor.

Supt. W. T. Day, of the Vekol mine, came up to Florence last Sunday and returned the next day with Judge J. D. Walker.

Through the efforts of Prof. F. J. Watson and others, a Sunday School has been organized to meet at the court house every Sunday.

Another very rich strike is reported from the Sample mine and it really looks as though a bonanza is being developed in that property.

Mr. B. Mayhew is expected to reach Florence today on his return from a visit to his home in Iowa. Two of his brothers accompany him.

Mr. Benjamin Barker came down from the Republic mines this week and went to the Sample mine. He is a son of Mr. A. Barker, of Dudleyville.

Folks from up the river say the Ray copper mines at Riverside, will likely resume active operations, stimulated by the advance in the price of copper.

Rev. U. Gregory, D. D., held Baptist services in the District Court room last Sunday morning and evening. He preached to large congregations.

Mr. Chester Letts, brother of Mrs. F. E. McCarty, arrived from El Paso Monday. He will remain for a few weeks and may possibly conclude to settle down here.

Mr. B. Mayhew returned from the east yesterday to this city. He will probably remain in Florence. He was accompanied by his son who will also reside here.

Father J. Monfort solemnized the following marriages this week: on the 25th, Neal Christensen to Miss Helen Contreras, and Portorio Valenzuela to Miss Juana Caraga.

Mr. Wm. Clarke was in from the Owl Heads this week. He is opening up some very promising mines in that district, some of which will likely figure among the richest in the county.

The Montezuma Ditch and Canal company have had the line of their canal surveyed to a point west of town. It passes about midway between the Florence canal and Holladay ditch.

Mr. A. L. Grow, of Tombstone, Department Commander, G. A. R., and Grand Master of the Odd Fellows, reached Florence on Thursday after visiting Globe, Silver King and Pinal.

There is an old man now comfortably established at the county hospital who was sent home to his relatives in the states about a year ago at a cost of about one hundred dollars to the county.

Mr. C. W. Fuller left for Casa Grande on Wednesday, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Scholz and child, of San Francisco, who will pay a visit to this valley. Mrs. Scholz is a niece of Mr. Fuller.

Messrs. W. Wood Porter, Richard Foreman and W. J. Harrington went out last week for a hunt and besides getting several deer they shot a number of wild hogs—musk hogs, they are called.

Mr. W. P. Bamrick and family returned from their Sonora visit on Friday evening last week. Mr. Bamrick reports very cold weather in Sonora, which injured the unpicked oranges and the trees quite seriously.

Three marriages took place in Florence this week, and Judge Bo. J. Whiteside tied the silken knot in each case. The parties were: Portilio Valenzuela and Miss Juana Gallago, Levi L. Smith and Mrs. Rosa Harris, Neal Christensen and Miss Bellene Contreras.

A Union Sunday School was organized at the Court House last Sunday, with 24 pupils present. Mrs. Guild was elected Superintendent, Miss Doran Treasurer, Miss Hildebrand Secretary and Mrs. Written and Mrs. Summers, Chorists. Bible, infant and intermediate classes were organized. The school will meet every Sunday at 10.30 a. m. all are invited to be present and aid the good cause.

Mr. P. R. Brady, Jr., who has been developing mining properties at the Owl Heads, came in town last Monday. He thinks that district will soon command the attention of mining investors on account of the abundance and richness of its ores.

In justice to the other contributors towards the expense of printing the folders descriptive of this valley, it is proper to state that the amount subscribed by W. R. Stone has been refunded to him because of his chronic dissatisfaction therewith. Messrs. R. J. Whiteside, W. C. Smith & Co., W. Tillman, the J. D. Rittenhouse estate, L. K. Draia and the ENTERPRISE publishers made up the deficiency required for freight charges on the second lot received.

Mr. F. Elver, of Middleton, Dane county, Wisconsin, arrived in Florence last Wednesday to take up his permanent residence here. He owns a section of land under the Florence canal which he will bring under cultivation as soon as the canal reaches it. Mr. Elmer lost his voice during a recent cold contracted in Wisconsin and he feels confident that this mild climate will very soon bring him permanent relief from the ailment.

Mr. Sylvester Baxter, of Boston, Secretary of the Hemenway Southwestern Archaeological Expedition, was in town on Wednesday. He is with Messrs. F. H. Cushing, C. A. Gardick and Dr. Kate the anthropologist, reconnoitering the ruins in this valley. Four laborers accompany the party. The expedition has two camps, one of them near Tempe, Camp Humphreys, and one near Mesa City, called Las Aqueas. Dr. J. L. Wortman, Comparative Anatomist of the Army Medical Museum at Washington, is now at the latter camp, having joined the expedition by order of the Surgeon General. They are accumulating a lot of interesting relics.

McNeil, the horse thief captured by Deputy Sheriff James Thomas at Duncan, New Mexico, a short time ago and placed in the county jail here, made a break for liberty on Wednesday morning and "got there" in good style. On a plea of a desire to visit the out-house he was permitted to pass around the north end of the court house. The gate at that point happened to be ajar, as a load of wood had just been hauled in, and the prisoner saw his opportunity and, shackled as he was, made a lively run down Main street across the aqueduct and then plunged into the fields to the west, where the strictest search failed to discover him. He is evidently an adept in getting out of the clutches of the law and is as cunning as he is depraved.

Mr. J. P. Gabriel is developing quite a bonanza at Riverside. He has a ledge of gold ore from 1 1/2 to 4 feet wide that runs up high in gold. It is an iron stained rotten quartz from which the gold can be born-spooned in astonishing quantities. He has fifty tons at his five-stamp mill and with his present facilities for hauling he can bring but two tons a day from the mine to the mill, a distance of four and a half miles, but he has arranged for enough teams to haul sufficient ore to keep the mill running during the daytime and will soon be able to run it day and night. The ore body will supply plenty of rich ore to do this. Mr. Gabriel's very many warm friends will be glad to learn of his good fortune.

The Sun has a story of the discovery of gold 15 miles north of Washington, near the old Montgomery manor, which never paid. The new discovery is a very thin vein running transversely to the Potomac river. Senator Sawyer of Wisconsin and a Philadelphia capitalist have bought 800 acres of the land and intend going into mining on a large scale. One of the investors is authority for the statement that the ore is not only of high grade, but is remarkably even in value and as reliable in this latter respect as the famous ores of the Homestake mine in the Black Hills. The average yield of gold per ton in operation thus far, made with a little stamp mill, is about $23 a ton. The ore in sight is practically inexhaustible. Of course there will be some doubt about the matter in view of all that has been said by old miners and expert geologists and savants, but the men who have decided to invest in the property, have the courage of a good many millions and can afford the experiment. No one on the United States geological survey is a believer in the discovery.

We are informed that a White Mountain Apache, incarcerated at San Carlos, upon the charge of horse stealing, feeling time hanging heavy upon his hands, asked that the cheerful influence of his wife and child might be permitted to pervade his lonely cell. The request was granted, and after remaining with him from 6 p. m. Tuesday until 4 a. m. Wednesday, he inflicted wounds upon them with a knife which resulted in their immediate death, and being still possessed of the devil he threatened death to anyone who should enter his cell. The guard being immediately doubled, and his detention assured me, for the time being, was left alone with his dead wife and child, and it was intended he should remain until he could be further secured without endangering the lives of soldiers or guards in the accomplishment of his end in view. But "where there's a will there's a way," and the happy expedient of firing him was resorted to, which worked like a charm. Hay was inserted into the cell in quantities sufficient, when ignited, to engage his undivided attention and excite a desire to be somewhere else, and acting upon the impulse he improvised himself as a battering ram. Forced the door of his cell and passing the portal, his light of life was snuffed by several well directed bullets fired by soldiers, and scouts whose skins were colored like his own.—Silver Belt.

A Big Discovery.

[Tucson Star.]

Frank Schultz, the discoverer of the Mammoth mine, has recently made another big gold discovery about three miles south west of the Mammoth mine. The veins are from 15 to 18 feet wide on surface and the croppings show rich in free gold. He has sunk two shafts, one 30 feet the other 35 feet. The shafts are all in rich ore. The ore taken from bottom of shafts is all bonanza with free gold. $50,000 is what Schultz asks for the two claims the Surprise and Enterprise.

A sample of tosoniti, a South American foreign plant, grown last year upon the College farm at St. Mary's, Kan., has been sent us by the manager, says the Kansas City Live Stock Indicator. The sample has been shown to several practical feeders, who pronounce it excellent food for stock, and when the enormous yield—forty-six tons per acre—is considered, it must surely become a most popular fodder.

Martin Duran, sentenced to be hanged in Prescott on the 20th, was respited by Acting Governor Bayard for thirty days.

Pinal Notes.

Spring.

Business booming.

A. O. U. W. meet to-night.

Mrs. A. Price, nee Charles, and children are sojourning at the Grand Hotel.

Judge J. D. Reymert and wife left the latter part of last week for California.

Mrs. Arthur Macy, of Silver King, was down during the week calling on some of her numerous friends.

Mr. Charles Brunenkat left Monday by way of Tempe for San Francisco.

Mr. A. J. Peters, representing the firm of C. T. Hayden &amp; Co., Tempe, has been doing a rushing business here and at Silver King during the week.

Miss Genevieve Oury, a charming and vivacious young lady of Florence, has been visiting here for several days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Culver.

Mr. Geo. W. Smith, book-keeper for Culver &amp; Reamer, went to Casa Grande Sunday to meet Mr. Reamer of that enterprising firm. After he arrived there he received word that he would have to defer his visit for the present on account of other business.

Frank Howser is treating the interior of his store to a new coat of calumene and adding a new ceiling thereto. Frank is selling loads of groceries every day at bed rock prices and has one of the coziest stores in town.

Rev. G. H. Adams, presiding elder of the M. E. Church, gave two very interesting and instructive sermons here last Sunday to a large audience, especially the evening one, as it was not generally known at the morning service that he had arrived. Mr. Adams is an able and elegant speaker and one that interests his hearers from beginning to end and we regret that he cannot be induced to remain permanently with us.

Mr. J. C. Phyl has the misfortune of losing another of his fine horses last Tuesday, valued at $250. He also lost the mate a short time previous. The last one makes five he has lost in the past six months which pulls heavily on his exchequer. As to the nature of the disease which they died he is unable to decide, though he surmises it was partly due to feeding musty alfalfa hay.

The little three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Woollooms met with quite a serious accident last Saturday by being run over by a horse. It appears that some of the neighbors' children were engaged in hitching up a bronco pony to a cart and it became frightened in some manner and ran away, and in doing so ran over the little girl, knocking it down and disfiguring the little one's face. It is presumed that in passing over the child the animal struck it with its feet from the marks it left on the child's back. Dr. Kinnard was telephoned for immediately and is doing all he can for the little sufferer.

The following officers of the Select Knights were installed at their meeting last week by Past Commander E. B. Moden: Commander, John H. Luedke; Vice Commander, F. G. Houser; Lieutenant, Commander, E. B. Moden; Recorder, G. W. Rouse; Treasurer, Geo. Reynolds; Recording, Wm. T. Rouse; Standard Bearer, James Rogers; Senior Workman, John Nissen; Junior Workman, John C. Woollooms; Guard of Legion, R. C. Hunter; Marshal, H. N. Tharsing; Trustees, James Rogers and E. B. Moden.

A very successful and enjoyable ne-kette party was given by the ladies of Pinal on Friday evening of last week, in the school house. There were about forty ladies present with their partners and every one expressed themselves as having thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The floor was in good condition for dancing, though a little too slippery, judging from the number that tried to sit down without any formality. The music was excellent and was furnished by Miller's orchestra, composed of four pieces. About 12 o'clock an ample lunch was served, consisting of coffee, cake and sandwiches, which was thoroughly relished by all, after which dancing was resumed till 3 a. m. The success of the evening is largely due to the following ladies who served as reception committee and their managers: Mrs. Geo. Reynolds, Mrs. R. D. Rogers, Miss Annie Whitlow, and Miss Cora Elder. There were several parties in attendance from Silver King, Tempe, and Florence, the latter comprising Bo. J. Whiteside and wife, W. Wood Porter, M. W. Harter, Miss Genevieve Oury and Mrs. Stephen M. Bailey, also Miss Hattie Eibel of South Bend, Indiana, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ochoa. Taking it all in all it was one of the most pleasant events of the year and we regret that owing to a previous engagement we were unable to be present, so we are under obligation to our handsome assistant post-master, E. B. Moden, for favors received.

Jose Bustamante, a half breed Mexican, and Martin Bolger, both in the employ of Culver & Reamer, the former as driver and the latter as assistant, came involved in a quarrel last Saturday evening about some trivial matter connected with their work. It seems that the Mexican was in the wagon and Bolger on the ground, sweeping the ore off the running gears of the wagon, when the Mexican requested him to do something which he did not hear, so the Mexican jumped down and jerked Bolger out of his hand and no sooner had he done so than Bolger hit him, knocking him out in the first round, and when time was called he came to the scratch with a black eye, though not a very serious one, after which they did their work as usual. When John L. Bolger arrived at the corral next morning to assist in feeding and harnessing, Bustamante told him that he was discharged and that he could dispense with his services as he had another man to take his place, without at the same time telling him he was doing it at Mr. Culver's request. Bolger, from the language the Mexican used, thought he was doing it on his own responsibility and became angry at the Mexican's dictation, as he considered he was usurping his authority, as he knew he had no right to discharge him. On the impulse of the moment he struck him, knocking him over also in the second round and drawing first blood and treating him pretty badly, and when time was called he failed to respond and it is claimed he struck him once with a six shooter which he had borrowed the night previous to defend himself in case of attack, as Bustamante is credited by nearly every one with being a bad man, especially when under the influence of intoxicating drink. The arresting officer says that he would not trust him under any circumstances and that his body is filled with bullet holes received from testing his fighting qualities. We have known Bolger personally for nearly five years and worked part of the time with him and have always known him to be a quiet, sober and industrious young man as can be found in any community, and he was led into committing the act by the dominating spirit of the Mexican and, most like, partly on the other teamster's advice, as they all dislike the Mexican and wanted to see him done up, as they claim he is too insulting. It is well known that Americans and Mexicans will not work in harmony as this case fully demonstrates, especially when the matter has the authority, as they, through their ignorance, are liable to use it when uncalled for. Bolger was arrested Sunday morning on complaint of Bustamante's wife, and had an examination the same morning before a Justice and pleaded guilty and was sentenced also on the same day to a fine of $250 or the alternative of going to Florence. Deputy Pate Bosch left Sunday afternoon with him for Florence and returned with him on Monday as the district attorney gave it as his opinion that the commitment was defective and it is also stated that the justice had not posted himself on the new code as it limits the justice's term of imprisonment to three months or 180 days, and it is also stated here that his sentence was illegal as it was passed on Sunday, which is a point for some of our legal lights to determine. Bolger had his examination Tuesday and was bound over to appear before the grand jury in the sum of $200 which was promptly furnished.

Read the Death Roll.

Which the bills of mortality of any large city may be fitly designated, and you will find that renal and vesical maladies, that is to say, those that affect the kidneys or bladder, have a remarkable prominence—we had almost said—preponderance. Bright's disease and diabetes in the chronic stage are rarely cured, and gravel, catarrh of the bladder and emuresis, say many. Yet at the outset, when the trouble merely amounts to inactivity of the organs involved, the danger may be nullified by that pleasant renal tonic and diuretic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which imparts the requisite amount of tone to the organs, without over-exciting them, and the use of which is convenient, and involves no elaborate preparation. Dyspepsia, a usual concomitant of renal complaints, and debility, which they invariably produce, are remedied by it. So also are constipation, malarial, rheumatic and nervous ailments.

A Joyous Type-Founder at Last.

The last drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery has rendered at least one San Franciscan happy, and he is William Leslie, of Palmer and Roy's type foundry, No. 407 Sansome St., who resides with his family at 2,505 California Street. He had the good fortune to hold a one-tenth ticket in the Second Capital Prize of $50,000, his share being $5,000 the money being drawn through the agency of Wells, Fargo & Co.—San Francisco (Cal.) Chronicle, Nov. 30.

The Coming Railroad.

[Tempe News.]

Col. S. Masten, in company with A. F. McDonald, J. S. Armstrong and others whose names we fail to learn, starts Monday to go over the old Hayden survey from Tempe to a point near Globe. The object in view is to discover the most direct route for a railroad from this place to Globe, and to connect with the Silver Belt road. Mr. McDonald surveyed the route for Judge Hayden about seven years ago, and it is at present the most direct line known to Globe, passing at a point within seven miles of the Silver King. The building of a railroad between these points will be untold importance to this valley. If it connects with the Mineral Belt it will give us the benefit of competition between the two great trunk lines crossing this territory. It will also tap the extensive timber and coal regions, which means the building up of manufacturing, industrial and other enterprises in this valley.

The Southern Pacific Company has changed its through rates of fare from San Francisco eastward. A telegram says: "The Southern Pacific Company will put the following new passenger rates into effect to-morrow. They will apply from San Francisco, To Boston, unlimited, $95.70; first-class, $93; mixed, $68; second-class, $64. New York, unlimited, $95.30, first-class, $91; mixed, $66; second-class, $62.50. Washington, unlimited, $92.60; first-class, $87.75; mixed, $62.75; second-class, $59.

Sam Drachman, of Tucson, not only sells the best cigars in the Territory, but is agent for the Louisiana Lottery and will sell tickets that win.

Board of Supervisors.

A Chicago dispatch says Judge Collins dissolved the injunction issued December 15, 1886, in the case of Edwin R. Palmer against Joseph W. Haskin, and dismissed the bill for want of equity. The case was one of considerable importance, and was brought by Palmer to compel the defendant to deliver to him stock in the Atlas Mining Company of the value of $240,000. Haskin and others claimed that they developed the mines, which are thirty-two miles northwest from Tucson, A. T., and organized the Atlas Mining Company, the capital stock of which was $8,000,000. Haskin was the original owner of the mines and agreed to give half the stock to the organizers if they were successful. The decision is regarded as a complete refutation of the charges made against Haskin when the injunction was granted.
